

Ever since i signed up to be on the do not call list of the State of New Jersey and the Federal list, I have found I am able to go through the day without being harrassed by telemarketers. What is evn more effective is that we are able to eat our meals in piece and quiet without being abused by telephone calls especially from those we do not want to hear from. Please do not change anything with either of these two laws that would weaken them. If you considering making them more stringent that would be fine, as I am not interested in being annoyed by political calls either. It is the first time as a senior citizen that i don't feel that someone is calling to rob me.
